Verify an exact PDF

Upload the PDF itself. Testides computes its SHA-256 fingerprint and checks for an exact match to an active released artifact.

What passes

The exact PDF bytes released by Testides, regardless of filename or who holds the copy.

What fails

Screenshots, edits, annotations, re-exports, metadata changes, revoked files, and unknown PDFs.

The upload is used only to compute the fingerprint and is not added to Testides storage. A byte-identical copy remains authentic; cryptography cannot distinguish the original download from an unchanged copy. Verification confirms document integrity, not ownership, authorization to republish, or material safety.
